When it comes time to trade or sell your car, be sure that it is one of three colors: black, white, or silver. According to the National Automobile Dealers Association, these three car colors can get you about $300 more in trade-in value than similar autos in red, yellow, blue, or green. White is the most popular car color, followed closely by black and silver. Save up to $1000 on buying a used car by choosing one of the less popular colors.
